THERE IS ONLY ONE

Even if a deep valley is created on the peach's surface, it is viewed as one, not two. Topologically, it can be seen as one because it is a curved surface that connects the skin that makes up the hips.

Cerebrum is made up of two brains, the left brain and the right brain, but they are not called two brains

THERE ARE TWO HIPS

The term for hips is used in the plural form in English. Plural expressions in English, like "eyes" or "socks," are only applied to things that come in pairs or more. This leads to the conclusion that there are indeed two hips.

The protruding part of the hip is called the 'bulge' in anatomy. The pelvic bone consists of two cheek bones and one tangy bone. According to the number of bones, there are two balls. Therefore, there are two hips.
